The Pennſylvania GAZETTE

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

MR. FRANKLIN,

FORASMUCH as a Paragraph, annex'd to a late preſbyterial Paper of Remarks upon the Rev. Mr. Whitefield's Writings, has occaſion'd a Variety of Reflections, I thought it Neceſſary to give this further Explication of my Intention in the aforeſaid Paragraph; namely, that altho' I conceive ſome of the Expreſſions criticiſed upon, conſidered abſtractly, or ſeparately, to be unguarded (and thus might be ſaid to have a bad Aſpect;) yet, if theſe Expreſſions are conſidered in their Connexion, and compared with what the worthy Gentleman has ſaid elſewhere, and with the general Drift of his Writings, they will (in my Opinion) admit of a favourable Interpretation, which, I think, that Charity obliges to, that hopes all Things, and forbids us to make a Man an Offender for a Word.

The Rev. Mr. Blair, as well as my ſelf, declared he was of the Opinion aforeſaid, reſpecting the Remarks, in the moſt publick Manner, at our late Presbytery; as many who were then preſent can witneſs, if there be Occaſion.

For my Part, I believe Mr. Whitefield to be found in the Faith, and a moſt eminent Servant of Jeſus Chriſt; and I doubt not, but he will give full Satisfaction to all impartial Perſons, by his Anſwer to the Queriſts. CHARLES TENNENT.

Philad. Octob. 16. 1740.

LONDON, July 3.--- 12.

THEY adviſe from Caſſel of the 29th paſt, That the Princes William & Frederick, accompanied by the Prince & Princeſs of Orange, the Princeſs of Heſſe and the Princes Maximilian, George, &c. ſet out the Monday before for Amelienthal to welcome Princeſs Mary of Great-Britain, who, at this Ceremony tenderly embraced her Siſter the Princeſs of Orange, and preſented to Prince Frederick her Conſort, the ſaid Princeſs, the Gentlemen and Ladies of her Retinue, the Day before being appointed for her publick Entry into that City, which was performed about Four in the Afternoon, with great Magnificence, and an incredible Concourſe, and the Shouts of the Populace; ſhe was on her Arrival at the Palace, immediately conducted into an Apartment, where a Crown was put on her Head, and having put on Wedding Aparrel, was convey'd by ſix Ladies of the Court into a large Saloon, where ſhe was receiv'd by Prince William and the Prince of Orange, and conducted to the Chamber where the Marriage Ceremony was performed by a Proteſtant Divine; to which ſucceeded a ſumptuous Supper conſiſting of 600 Diſhes, beſides the Deſert; but the Princely Bride eat little or nothing, tho' the Meats were elegantly dreſs'd: The Illuſtrious Company diverted themſelves afterwards (each with a burning Taper in their Hand) with a Dance through all the Apartments to the Bride's Bedchamber, into which, when ſhe was in Bed, they all enter'd to bid her Good-night: the next Day, all the Courtiers and Perſons of Diſtinction were Preſented to that Princeſs, having the Honour to kiſs her Hand.

They write from Rome, that a Canon of Corfu came a few Days ſince to the Gates of Conclave, and was very importunate to be admitted, and inſiſted upon being acknowledged as Pope, alledging, that it was reve l'd to him that he was to be elected, and that all the Cardinals who ſhould oppoſe him would die the next Day. It was immediately diſcover'd that he was diſorder'd in his Head, ſo no other Notice was taken of him than to oblige him to withdraw.

'Tis ſaid that an Embargo will be laid on the Merchant Ships, on Account of the Preparations making for ſundry Expeditions.

We hear Sir John Norris with the Fleet under his Command and Forces, will ſail from Porrſmouth the firſt fair Wind.

Our Politicians are of Opinion that a Rupture with France is unavoidable.

On Friday next Sir Robert Walpole ſets out for Houghton-Hall.---Some ſpeculative Obſervers of Occurrences remark, that Sir Robert was at Houghton when it was voted in Council to declare War againſt Spain,

We are aſſured, that not a Day paſſes but a Number of Men, who have been ill on Shore, return perfectly recover'd to their ſeveral Ships; and that the Fleet is in a fine Condition.

Her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs of Orange is advanced into the fifth Month of her Pregancy.

The labour'd Scheme for reconciling the Differences between Great Britain and Spain, which has been long hammering on the Anvils of Paris and Verſailles, under the Direction of the political Cardinal, we are aſſur'd has at laſt been preſented, and diſcover'd to be ſo full of Flaws that it was abſolutely rejected.

From on Board the Buckingham Man of War at Spithead, July 17.

Sir John Norris is yet the Length of Portland; and Admiral Balchen, who is now at Spithead, will ſail ſoon after him, as ſoon as the Cumberland, and Prince Frederick are arriv'd to join him.

The Ships for Capt. Anſon's Expedition, are to be the Centurion, Severn, Glouceſter, Pearl, Wager Store Ship, and the Tyal Sloop. Thoſe detain'd for my Lord Cathcart, are the Buckingham, York, Rippon, Aſſiſtance, Litchfield, Montague, (which is not yet come from Plymouth) and two Fire Ships.

London, July 19. An Expreſs arriv'd in Town from Portſmouth, with an Account that the Victory, on board which Sir John Norris had hoiſted his Flag, had receiv'd ſuch Damage off Portland by one of the Ships of the Squadron runing foul of her on Thurſday Morning, that ſhe was oblig'd to put back to St. Hellen's to be refitted.

We are inform'd that the Lords of the Admiralty have ordere one Ship of 50 Guns, one of 40, and 4 of 20, to cruize conſtantly between Uſhant and the South Weſt Coaſt of Ireland, which are to be relieved every ſix Weeks with the like Number of equal Force, for the Protection of our Merchant Ships.

We hear that an Exchange will ſoon be made of the Spaniſh Priſoners taken on board the St Joſeph, &c. for the Engliſh Sailors, which are in great Miſery at St. Sebaſtian, &c.

Sir Jacob Ackworth, Surveyor General of his Majesty's Navy, has receiv'd Orders from the Lords of the Admiralty, to certify to them what Ships of War are in a fit Condition for the Sea Service, in order to their being Commission'd forthwith.

July 22. We hear the Yatchs will sail for his Majesty the 8th of August.

The Way Sir John Norris's Ship lost her head, was by the Lyon's running foul of her on the 16th Instant in the Night, it blew hard and was extreamly dark. Sir John Norris is mov'd on board the Boyne, and is to proceed in her till the Victory can get a new Head and follow him.

Commodore Anson and the Ships under his Command, it's said, are actually victuall'd for two and twenty Months, and the Sea and Land Officers on board have great lucrative Expectations from the Expedition that they are to be employ'd in.

July 24. The Transports with the Stores for the Lord Cathcart's Expedition are all now at Spithead; those seven Ships have each of them on board an equal Number of Brass Ordinance; and among them 3000 Balls of 24 Pounds each, also 4000 of 12 Pounds each, and 6000 of 6 Pounds each; also 5000 Barrels of Gunpowder and a proportionable Quantity of other Stores.

Private Letters from Toulon affirm, that the Number of Sailors registerd in the several Ports of the Kingdom, to be in the Service of the King of France. amounts to 30,000 Men.

'Tis said that the Victory will be ready to sail the beginning of next Week; as will also the Lord Cathcart the first fair Wind, and Commodore Anson with the Men of War under his Command for the West Indies.

This Day at Noon the Admiralty received an Account that Sir John Norris in the Boyne, and all the Fleet were out of sight of the Land last Night.

Extract of a Letter from Madrid, July 7.

Upon Advices that a Fleet of 25 Ships of War is equipping in England, the Command of which is to be given to Admiral Norris, the Court has sent divers orders to all the Sea Ports of this Kingdom, it being reported that the Fleet is to make some Attempts on these Coasts.

The Magazine for June last in describing of Gibraltar, among other things says, St. Michaels Cave is able to contain 1000 Men, and where a Party of desperate Spaniards hid themselves two Days in the first Siege in 1703, they having entred into a solemn Combination, either to take the Place, or die in the Attempt; to which End they ascended the back Part of the Mountain at Middle Hill and Salto Garobbo, with the greatest Difficulty and Hazard, and were to have fallen on the back Part of the Town, whilst the Besiegers made a general Assault on the Front; but being discover'd before their design was ripe for Execution, were attack'd by a Detachment of the Garrison, and refusing to take Quarter, all jump'd down the vast Precipice (their Commander leading the Way) and perish'd, not one out of 500 Men escaping to tell with what Pains and miserable Consequence such an Attempt was attended. The French and Spaniards, after this, rais'd the Siege, tho' the Works of the Besieged lay all in Ruins, and only a handful of about 1200 Men to defend the Place against a powerful Army of near 30,000 French and Spaniards. This fruitless Attempt in 1705 by so numerous an Army, under an experienc'd French General, evinces how inpracticable any futnre Attempts are like to be, when this Fortress has been strengthen'd with new Fortifications, and a sufficient Garrison has the Defence of it.

WILLIAMSBURG, Sept. 19.

On Monday last, the Levies that were incamp'd in this City, imbark'd on board the 4 Transport Ships that lay off Col. Burwell's, in James River; and on Tuesday and Wednesday they were paid their Bounty Money, three Pistoles each Man. Yesterday Morning they set Sail for Hampton, where they are to take in 50 or 60 more Men. There will be four compleat Companies, of 100 in each Company; who, by the Care and Diligence of their Officers, are disciplin'd in the new Military Exercise, and, it's hop'd not inferior to those of the other Colonies. ----- None of the Neighbouring Levies are yet arrived to join them; but are daily expected. The Honourable Col. Gooch has given Orders for every Thing to be in Readiness for Sailing; and we hear he intends to to go to Hampton in a few days. We hear the Colchester Man of War is to sail on Tuesday for England; and will take under Convoy all the Vessels that are ready. We are also inform'd, that the Wolf Man of War, which went out lately on a Cruise, is return'd to Hampton.

Sept. 26. On Tuesday last, the Colchester Man of War, Capt. Symonds, sail'd from Hampton for England; and took under her Convoy all the Ships that were ready. The Captain was so ill that 'twas expected he cou'd not live many Days.

On Wednesday last, the Honorable WILLIAM GOOCH, Esq; Governor of this Colony, Quarter Master General, and Colonel of all the Marines rais'd in America, set out from this City for Hampton, in order to embark for the West-Indies, with the Levies rais'd in this Colony. He was saluted here by the Discharge of the Cannon, and the hearty good Wishes of all the Inhabitants. The 4 Transports Ships with the Levies on board, are at Hampton; and will sail in 2 or 3 Days, under the Convoy of the Wolf Man of War, Capt. Dandridge, who 'tis said will go with them to the West-Indies; and we hear, that Sir Yelverton Peyton, in the Hector Man of War, will go with them some Distance, and then return hither to his Station.

Piscataqua, October 3. The Rev. Mr. WHITEFIELD, Preached here, at Hampton on Wednesday in the Forenoon, at Portsmouth in the Afternoon; Thursday twice at York, at Portsmouth again on Friday in the Forenoon, and this Afternoon he set out for Hampton. His Preaching in general, is to the satisfaction of all his Hearers, and a very considerable Collection (for the Relief of the poor Orphans in Georgia) has been made at Portsmouth, and the rest of the Towns in this Province where he has Preached.

Boston, Octo. 5. We hear from Plymouth, that Capt. Cushman is arrived there in 24 days from Jamaica, who brings advice, that Admiral Vernon's Squadron still remain'd there, and that in his Passage he met 3 Men of War and several Transports bound to Jamaica.

NEW-YORK, October 6.

His Majesty's Ship the Ludlow Castle, Capt. Cuzack, and the Transports from this Place, Rhode-Island and Connecticut (except the Snow mentioned in our last) are fallen down to the Hook, from whence they are to sail for Virginia to morrow, the Snow from Connecticut being expected to be refitted and got ready by that Time.

From the New-York Gazette, October 13.

An Extract of a Letter from a Minister in Boston to his Friend at New-York.

SIR,

MR. WHITEFIELD has spent ten Days with us, and has been received by all (but his own Church) as an Angel of GOD, and a Servant of JESUS CHRIST. Friday, September the 19th, being invited, he preach'd at Dr. Colman's Meeting-House; he answered every Expectation, and even exceeded that of the most Raised and Judicious. Saturday Morning he preach'd at Dr. Sewall's, to a large Audience; and in the Afternoon on our Common, to an equal or greater Number. Lord's-Day in the Afternoon Mr. Foxcroft, being ill, prevail'd on him to preach for him; yet in the Evening he went to the Common and preach'd to a vast Assembly of about 7000 People, as was supposed. Monday Morning he began at Mr. Webb's, and was to have been at Mr. Checkley's in the Afternoon; but the Croud was excessive, and on a sudden took a Fright (without any Manner of Reason) that the Galleries were falling; the Windows were immediately thrown open, and many jump'd out: The Out-cry was so universal thro' the Galleries, that the Ministers and others near the Pulpit, who saw there was no Manner of Danger, could not be in the least heard while they said so: Three were trodden to Death, many were bruised, some had broken Bones, not a few thrown in Heaps at the Door; and so the Assembly broke up: A very awful Rebuke upon us in the Holy Providence of GOD! Yet Mr. WHITEFIELD preach'd afterwards on the Common, to a great Assembly, tho' it was a raw easterly Wind, and rainy. Tuesday Morning he preach'd at Mr. Gee's, in the Afternoon at Dr. Sewall's. Wednesday twice at Cambridge bridge before the Colleges, in the Morning to the Students, in the Afternoon to the Populace. On Thurſday he preach'd the Publick Lecture, and the Governor invited all the Miniſters, and Mr. WHITEFIELD, with his Companions in Travel to dine with him: He went and preach'd at Charles-Town in the Afternoon. Friday Morning at Roxbury; in the Afternoon from a Scaffold raiſed at Mr. Byles's Pulpit-Window, the Houſe full within, the Field covered without. On Saturday Morning at Mr. Welſtead's, in the Afternoon on the Common to near 10,000, or more. Yeſterday being the Holy Sabbath, in the Morning at Dr. Sewall's, where they collected, I hear, Five Hundred and Thirty Pounds: At Dr. Colman's in the Afternoon, where they collected Four Hundred and Seventy Pounds for his Orphan-Houſe, Dr. Colman having delivered him Fifty Pounds before. In the Evening he preach'd to the Negroes of the Town, at the North School. Monday, this Morning he is to go to Marblehead, and preaches at Salem, Ipſwich, Newbury, Hampton and Portſmouth: He hopes at York on Thurſday.---Every Evening his Lodgings have been crouded, and he has made his Exhortations and Prayers with as many as came and could hear. Next Week he hopes to be at Boſton again, and ſpend another Week; then towards Northampton.

He is truly a wonderful Inſtance of GRACE, LABOUR, and TRAVEL, for the Salvation of Souls. The Miniſters and People have received him with unfeigned Eſteem and Joy: He is delighted to ſee the Regard of the People to the Doctrine of Grace. May the Impreſſion on all our Souls remain, to the Honour of GOD, both in Miniſters and People!
